Here and There

A bald-headed man in Pennsylvania took medicine for a cancer, and instead of curing the cancer, it started a new growth of hair and the patient is now taking the medicine for hair instead of cancer.

What a bowl would go up, remarked an editor who had evidently had experience, if newspapers were to criticize the individuals as freely as many people criticize the newspapers. Every issue of a live and reputable newspaper is a mantle of charity; and the matter left out—truth, not gossip—would often more than equal in volume that published. If an editor could get out a cold fact edition of his paper some day, and then get up in a tree and watch the result—wow! What a picture it would be.

The Appellate Court, Judge Hobson writing, affirmed the judgment of the Russell Circuit Court in a case of the Commonwealth against John Oldham and P. B. Cooper, in which was construed the legislative act prohibiting the selling by wholesale of spirituous liquors at a point other than the place of manufacture in a county where the local option act is in force. It was agreed that the liquor was sold at the free warehouse of appellee's distillery. The court here says that, under laws of the United States, the liquor cannot be sold and delivered while in bond, and within the meaning of the statute, the place of manufacture is not the distillery survey but the premises of the defendant where the whisky is made.

The Meade County Messenger observes: On the same day recently a man paid $65,000 for a picture and another $7,000 for a dog. Now which is further evidence of the present high cost of living.

Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular, a recognized liquor organ, is so alarmed at the spread of anti-saloon legislation that it declares that "if there is one thing that seems settled beyond question it is that the retail liquor trade of this county must either mend its ways materially or be prohibited in all places save the business and tenderloin precincts of our large cities."

We frequently read of the enormous profits of patent medicine firms and the development into millions of their proprietors. Paris in Henry county developed one of these millionaire. Obion county stands a fine chance to produce a patent medicine king and millionaire in the person of Mr. Walter B. McCullough, of Kenton. McCullough, about two years ago, organized the Kenton Chemical Company. Its stock is now worth more than any bank stock in the county and constantly rising in value. This week the Chemical Company placed five traveling salesmen in the field, one in Missouri, one in Arkansas, one in Kentucky one in Mississippi and one in Tennessee. The people of Obion county will watch with interest the rise and growth of this, their home medicine company.

Missouri Democrats have endorsed Bryan for their next presidential nominee.

In the two great empires of China and Russia a greater number of persons are facing starvation than ever faced that fate in the past, so far as authentic history bears testimony. In Russia, according to Alexis Aladyin, thirty millions are confronted by crop failure and have no seed grain. "In March, April and May," he says, "it is probable that a million people will die." In China ten millions confront famine.

Gen. J. S. Coxey, of Coxey's army fame, is preparing for another great movement on Washington. This time he talks of taking a train, just when all the rest of us are beginning to think we shall have to walk.

Figures are published by the census office showing that the population of the United States is increasing steadily and enormously and that it is now nearing the 100,000,000 mark. The enumerated and estimated population for the continental United States for 1906 is given as 83,941,510 and for the continent and the insular possessions, including Alaska, the enormous figure of 93,182,240. There has been a general increase in density of population from 26 to the square mile to 28, and the population of the cities has increased much more rapidly than that of the country. The general increase of population since 1900 was only 8.8 per cent. but the increase of the urban population, namely that of all the incorporated towns, was 15.9 per cent. And this increase was still more marked in the larger cities, the increase in cities over 50,000 in population being 16.3 per cent.

The wets won in the Paris, Ky. election Thursday by a majority of 282 votes. The wets had such a compact organization that they took possession of the polls early and polled their full strength on the start.

"Proposition Not Dead."

This is what the Paducah News-Democrat, of last Friday, has to say regarding the proposed electric railway from Paducah to Hickman. Most of our business men will remember Mr. Archer who spent several days here last fall in the hope of interesting our people in this matter. Because we knew nothing of Mr. Archer, he being a total stranger, and the unusual manner in which he presented his proposition, we failed to give him the encouragement, which he possibly deserved.

Here is what the News-Democrat has to say:

"The proposed building of an electric line from this place to some point on the Mississippi river—either Hickman or Paducah—is not dead, as was recently erroneously reported. The promoters of the project are still disposed to make it a real thing.

"Behind the enterprise, as has been heretofore stated, is the DuQuoin, Belleville & St. Louis Railway company, and it is no small concern. As evidence of this fact it can be stated that the company has lately successfully interested the Carnegie Trust company, of New York, in floating their bonds to the extent of $2,000,000. These bonds are to be issued as rapidly as possible to the extent of $2,000,000 after which the work of construction will commence immediately. The company has a franchise covering 85 miles of road, commencing at Zeigler, in Franklin county, and terminating at Belleville, via Benton, DuQuoin and Paducah. The officers of this company are: W. R. Hayes, president; D. R. Archer, vice president; T. J. Howell, secretary, and H. E. Ross, treasurer.

"Mr. D. R. Archer, vice president of the DuQuoin and St. Louis line, recently spent some time in Paducah, trying to interest local people in a proposed electric line from Paducah to Mayfield, Fulton and Hickman.

"Mr. B. H. Scott and H. H. Loving are interested with Mr. Archer and some Hickman and Brookport people have been interested in a small way.

"Mr. Archer feels that the proposition that he would like to get local people to consider is one worthy of attention of the citizens of Paducah, as it would be a very profitable line if built, and certainly would be of vast benefit to Paducah. He has a thoroughly responsible financial concern in the east that will give a gilt-edged bond of $100,000 to build the proposed road and complete it in 12 months, but in order to complete this arrangement it is necessary for the eastern people to be brought here and inspect and approve the proposed route.

"Certainly the citizens of Paducah can appreciate what great values such a line would be to the city, and Mr. Archer's proposition ought to be carefully investigated, and if feasible, encouraged liberally by the citizens of Paducah and those along the proposed line.

"Paducah must have, and will no doubt sooner or later have one or more interurban lines. All delays in securing them only hurt the city, and the sections of contiguous country they will traverse. Our people would, it is clear, hasten what would prove most advantageous to lend whatever help they possibly can to any and all such projects.

"In general the East and the Middle West are being built up—made to flourish like the Green Bay trees—by the construction of electric interurban lines. Why should Paducah reap a part of the good which must and will come?

Let's get in line with the Paducah people—investigate the matter. The plan is very liberal, requiring no bonus, and if claims are all honestly presented, we could ask nothing better.

A great many coffin lids bear the words "at rest." Sometimes the undertaker man gets all the rest.

Scott-Murrell.

At nine o'clock, Wednesday evening, Miss Adelaide V. Murrell and Mr. Chas. S. Scott were married at the home of the bride, in this city, Rev. H. C. Johnson officiating.

The wedding was a quiet and beautiful affair—only a few relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties being present.

Following the ceremony an elegant luncheon was served, after which the happy young couple took the 10:30 train, leaving for West Baden, Ind., where they will spend a week or two, thence to Louisville, their future home.

Adelaide is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Murrell, and is a charming and accomplished young lady.

Mr. Scott comes from one of the best families in Louisville—his home, and is engaged in business with his father, A. D. Scott, at that place.

The Courier joins their host of friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Scott a bon voyage on the sea of life.

A horrible crime was perpetrated at Arlington, the early part of the week. A young man named Stockton went to the home of his uncle and asked to stay all night. The request was granted and he was assigned a room adjoining the one in which his uncle and aunt slept.

During the night the uncle was awakened by a noise in the room and opening the door the young man fired point blank at the man's breast, the charge going through the body and through two walls of the room. His aunt attempted to defend her husband and was beaten into insensibility, oil poured over her clothing and set afire. He secured $300 from the house and escaped.

The aunt recovered in time to extinguish the flames. The uncle will, it is thought, die from the wounds. The young man was arrested at Bardwell.
